Make the Most of Your Free Time

Studies say that people nowadays have more free time than ever before. Then why doesn't it feel that way?

These days, we usually spend our free time watching television, using computers, or communicating on our phones. To have fun and relax, it is important to use our free time wisely. Here are some tips:

TIP 1

Think about what you want to achieve in your free time. Do you want to get fit, get creative, or simply relax? Don't worry about what you must be doing, just think about what will make you feel happy and relaxed.

TIP 2

Plan when you will enjoy your free time and treat it the same way as anything else on your calendar. If something else more important comes along, you can choose whether to postpone it, but never cancel it!

TIP 3

Make sure you have everything you need to enjoy your free time in advance. If you want to get out in the countryside, get your boots and map ready, and don't forget to check the weather forecast.

TIP 4

Many people worry too much about their free time activities. They want to do things that will impress their friends, look good on their résumés, or help them get a better job. But free time isn't about that. It is about doing an activity for enjoyment, so don't let outside pressures influence your choice.

Use your free time wisely.
It's your time to refresh, grow, and enjoy life!

CAN I STOP USING Social Media FOR A WHILE?

Nowadays, many people are social media fanatics. They are always looking at their mobile phones or tablets and updating their Instagram or Facebook accounts. They are either taking pictures of what they eat or of themselves. When people are not oversharing, they are constantly reading or looking at what friends and family members are posting. Social media is becoming addictive.

While some people need and use social media for work or to stay in touch with friends, other people find that using social media so much causes anxiety and stress.

People also tend to use social media to postpone tasks.

So just as many religions ask people not to eat certain foods or drink certain drinks for a certain time, many people are taking social media fasts.

WHAT IS A SOCIAL MEDIA FAST?

It means they are not updating their status, and they are also reading what other people are posting.

They choose to stay away from social media for 30 days.

THE REASONS PEOPLE UNDERTAKE A BREAK ARE VARIED.

Some people want to reconnect with their families or friends by disconnecting from their cell phones.

Some people want to be more productive at work.

WHAT DO SOME USERS DO INSTEAD OF LOGGING ON?

Some connect with friends by sitting down and having face-to-face conversations.

If friends or loved ones are far away, they call them on the telephone instead.

Some even write postcards or letters by hand.

THE RESULTS ARE MIXED.

Some people feel that not using social media makes them more anxious.

Others develop more positive habits, such as journaling or meditating.

A break from social media isn't about missing out— it's about making room for what matters most.

11) What is a positive aspect of social networking sites?

A) They make people addicted.
B) They help people to be in touch.
C) They help people develop communication skills.
D) They make people feel less stressed and anxious.

12) What does “social media fasts” mean?

A) To have a lot of friends online.
B) To update social networks constantly.
C) To avoid using social networks forever.
D) To stop using social networks for some time.

13) Why do some people decide to stop using social networks?

A) They want better results at work.
B) They want to avoid talking to people.
C) They want to be away from their families.
D) They want to lose contact with their loved ones.

14) What activity does the reading suggest instead of being connected?

A) To work more
B) To take pictures
C) To meet with friends
D) To join religious activities

15) How do some people feel after taking a break from social media?

A) They feel more connected to their online friends.
B) They feel more worried without their social networks.
C) They feel more productive and update less frequently.
D) They feel more motivated to share posts and pictures.

6 AMAZING PREDICTIONS FOR THE FUTURE

Will the world be very different 20 years from now? Future research offers us some views of life in the future.

1

Many people who are born in the 2040s will live until they are 150.

That's because there will be vaccines for the most serious diseases, including cancer.

2 Cars will drive themselves.

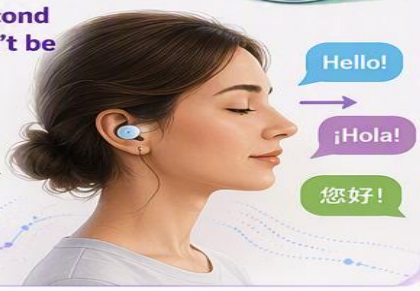

Our cars will take us wherever we want to go, safely and easily.

We will be able to relax and enjoy the ride.

3 Learning a second language won't be necessary.

We'll be able to buy tiny computers that fit in our ears and translate what we hear into our language.

4 There will be genetically modified crops that will be very healthy.

For example, sweets contain vitamins. We'll also be able to buy square fruit and vegetables that fit more easily in the fridge. Now, most fruit and vegetables have just one shape, "round". They will have the same flavor, but different shapes.

5 People will go on holiday to space.

Thousands of us will work in space stations, which will have hotels, restaurants, and sports stadiums.

6 We'll be able to play video games just by thinking.

The games will be advanced enough to understand what move we want to make. It will make the move for us.

We won't need to touch anything.

Probably, we all think this will never be possible, but that's what we thought about video calling, the Internet, and some electronic devices. Technology is changing the way we live now, and it will make it for many more years.

16) What is going to happen to people after 2040?

A) They are going to live longer.

C) They are going to drive more sophisticated cars.
D) They are going to suffer from more serious diseases.

17) Why will it be unnecessary to learn a second language?

A) Because people will learn faster.
B) Because there will be small devices for translation.
C) Because people will think in other languages automatically.
D) Because there will be video games specialized in languages.

18) How will people spend their holidays?

A) They will practice sports.
B) They will study languages.
C) They will travel out of space.
D) They will spend their time playing video games.

19) How will fruit and vegetables be different from now?

A) They won't have any vitamins.
B) They will have different flavors.
C) They will have different shapes.
D) They won't be necessary for our health.

20) What will people need to do to play video games in the future?

A) They will need to buy special computers.

Who is Barack Obama?

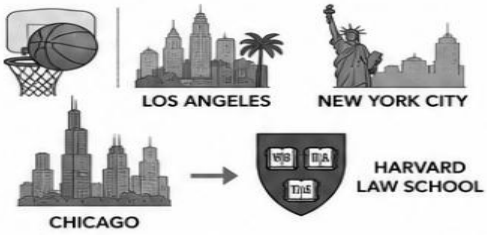

In November 2008, Americans elected Barack Obama as their 44th president. He was the first African American to hold that office. He was president for two terms until 2016. Barack Hussein Obama was born in Honolulu, Hawaii, on August 4, 1961.

Barack was an excellent student and a good basketball player. With the help of scholarships, he attended college in Los Angeles and New York City. After graduating in 1985, he moved to Chicago, where he worked as a community organizer. His work with tenants and with people who had lost their jobs led Barack to develop an interest in the law. He was admitted to Harvard Law School, where he became the first African American to serve as editor of the Harvard Law Review.

After law school, Obama returned to Chicago, where he did community legal work and got minorities registered to vote. In Chicago, he met Michelle Robinson, who was also a lawyer. They married in 1992 and had two daughters - Malia and Sasha.

Obama's political career began in 1996 when he was elected to the Illinois State Senate. He continued to fight for the poor and gained a reputation for being a good speaker. This talent served him well, helping him win a seat in the U.S. Senate in 2004 and defeat Hillary Clinton in 2008 to become the Democratic candidate for president.
